Fitzpatrick Takes "The Rap!"

Justice Ives in Supreme Court
Gives Two-Year Sentence in Lethbridge Jail.

The final act in the drama of underworld trickery at Blairmore's notorious "Hill 60" concluded with Joe Fitzpatrick, former police constable employed by the town being sent down by the Supreme Court for two years. Leona Cudmore, an accessory to the extortion, was killed on Nov. 8 in an auto smash west of Coleman.

Briefly, the story is that Sam Kubiliski, Bellevue miner, went to Leona's place on Saturday afternoon, May 25, to fix up an agreement over some money he had on previous occasions loaned her. Leona was not ready to see him when he arrived, and he went to Mae's room. While there Fitzpatrick appeared "like bolt from blue sky" stated Kubiliski and told him it would cost him a thousand dollars to get out of it.

Kubiliski offered him $50, kept raising it to $400, still Fitzpatrick was not satisfied, and demanded $1,000. The upshot was that Fitzpatrick, Cudmore and Kubiliski went to the latter's home at Bellevue, in Joe Mission's taxi, and there Kubiliski handed over two cheques, one for $750 and another for $40, from which he was to receive $150 change when they were cashed.

Kubiliski was later informed by some friends that he should tell the R.C.M.P. of what happened, with the result that information was sworn out for arrest of Fitzpatrick and Cudmore on the charge of extortion. At the preliminary trial before Magistrate Gresham on June 21 these cheques were handed in as evidence. Attempts had been made by Cudmore and Fitzpatrick to cash them, Coleman post-office being one of the places where Cudmore presented them without success.

In the evidence on Monday at supreme court, it was stated this house where the incident took place had been carried on for a considerable time with the knowledge of the town council, and Fitzpatrick was authorized to inspect it.

This place has been the cause of considerable comment in that for quite a long time it has been allowed to carry on with full cognizance of the town council of Blairmore.

Funeral of Alex. S. Cornett

Many attended the services on Sunday at St. Alban's church and the graveside, the Miners Association and Coleman Elks lodge walking in the procession. The coffin was carried from the house to the church, a short distance, the pall-bearers being C. J. Devine, T. Bowen, I. Nielsen, representing the International Co., and J. Plante, H. Antel and T. Higginbotham representing the Elks lodge.

The hymns led by the choir were "Shall We Gather at the River"; "Jesus Lover of My Soul"; and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

The regular form of the Burial Service for the Dead was read by Rev. A. S. Partington, and at the graveside the Elks held their ritual and the committal service of the Church of England followed.

The chief mourners were Mrs. Cornett, Melville and Helen (Mrs. Houde), Mr. Cornett of Red Deer, brother, and Mrs. Ballard, of Calgary, sister.

Many beautiful floral tributes were sent by relatives, friends and organizations, and over 60 cars were in the funeral procession.

Homing Society Presentation and Smoker

On Saturday evening in the Catholic hall the annual smoker and presentation of championship cups was the occasion for the gathering of members from Coleman and Bellevue.

The cups were the Dr. Lillie cup, presented by him to Charles Makin, for the bird winning the championship race from Peace River, a distance of 500 miles, at a velocity of 674 yards per minute. This is the premier trophy of all Pass clubs.

The Pattinson cup was won by T. Jackson's bird in winning the flight for young birds from Wetskiwin.

A presentation was also made to John Anderson of a combined cigarette case and lighter, as a mark of esteem from the members for his services to the club, he being the founder of the Coleman Homing Society in 1930, with some birds he brought from Scotland, and which have proved the best among the flying clubs of western Canada.

Elias Litherland of Bellevue Club told of the records of birds flown by that club, and it was he with Mr. Anderson who started the pigeon clubs in the Pass towns. Bellevue last year won the premier championship, and several of Mr. Litherland's birds were in the prize-winning class this year.

J. E. Upton President of Festival for 1936

Mrs. J. H. Farmer Re-Appointed
Secretary J. A. Kerr of Blair-more, Vice-President.

Nearly 60 people attended the annual meeting and banquet of the festival committee in the Greenhill on Monday evening, when the finance report for the year was submitted, and officers were elected. The executive will appoint sub-committees representative of the various towns in the Pass, as it was decided that only those who will take an active interest in the work should be appointed.

During the splendid banquet served by the grill management, Mrs. Farmer was presented with a fine bouquet of Chrysanthemums, Mr. Moser making a short address on her good services and Miss Chardon presenting the bouquet in a very gracious manner.

W. H. Chappell's report on the box office was very complete in detail, indicating faithful work by himself and assistants for the three days of the festival.

William Kerr, president during 1935, thanked the executive for their support. L. L. Morgan, a past president, gave a resume of the festival since it was inaugurated in 1925, paying a tribute to the music teachers for the part they had taken in promoting its activities, and especially referring to W. H. Moser as one of the original committee. G. E. Cruickshank and H. T. Halliwell spoke briefly on the good work achieved by the festival among the young people of the Pass towns.

Coleman was represented at the banquet by Mayor and Mrs. G. Pattinson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Lindoe, Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Partington, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Halliwell, Miss May Powell, Miss A. Yuill, Dr. Robert H. Campbell and Mr. Arthur Reid, chairman of Coleman School Board.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Cornett, Melville and Helen, wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for their sympathy and floral offerings in the loss of a beloved husband and father. Also the doctors and hospital staff for their kindness, and all who loaned cars for the funeral.

The annual Xmas sale and tea of the St. Alban's Women's Guild will be held in the Parish hall, Saturday, Dec. 14.

Coleman Man is Slain by Trapper

Formerly Worked at McGillivray Mine Brother Lives in West Coleman; Trying to Have Body Sent Here. Lived For Time at Claresholm

Reported in the news despatches this week was the murder by shooting of Johnny Anthony, whose correct name is Antonenko. It occurred in the northern part of the province, bordering on Saskatchewan, by his partner John Harms, aged 65, who has since surrendered to the R. C. M. P.

His brother Pete, working at McGillivray mine, made efforts to have the body forwarded here, it is reported, but the cost he was informed would be about $800, as it would have to come out by plane.

Antonenko had been working a trap line in the north, leaving here about 1927, after being laid off from McGillivray mine. He lived for awhile at Claresholm. Owing to the distance from regular lines of communication, full details are not easily available. The murderer was a partner of Antonenko on the trap line. The latter took the name of Anthony in order to secure a license, fearing that his Russian nationality might bar him.

lowed up with heavy blows to the head.

Lust really opened up in the fourth making Matvenke miss badly and scored heavily with hard blows to the body. Lust tore after Matvenke during the entire round and won it decisively.

Lust resorted to his old tactics in the sixth round of backing into the ropes and scoring with a stiff uppercut to Matvenke's face as the latter came tearing in.

Matvenke scored the hardest blow of the evening in the 7th as he met Lust coming off the ropes with a right which met flush on Lust's chin, draping him half way over the top rope. Lust backed into a corner, slipping on some resin; Matvenke making the most of this advantage.

Lust was tired in the eighth and Matvenke scored with a stiff left to the jaw. Matvenke forced the fight, Lust backing away.

Horse Stealing and Drunk and Disorderly Cases Heard Before Magistrate Gresham.

William Trots, 18, and Steve Mraz, 18, were convicted of stealing two horses, on Nov. 23, the property of Carl Sapota, Constable Foster, for the crown; R. F. Barnes, solicitor, defended. Accused pleaded not guilty. Their story of being at a certain place other than claimed by the Crown was broken down by Constable Foster. Witnesses for the prosecution were Alex. Beck, Jules Ancelot and Sapota. Defence witnesses were Mrs. Mraz and Don Costa. Accused was found guilty and given six months suspension from the crown; pending sentence, ordered to pay costs of the court and make restitution.

Constable Anle prosecuted charges against John Hallak, 21, H. Coccolone, 18, G. Burtinick, 21, the first two with creating a disturbance at Coleman Cafe on Saturday, and the third with intoxication. Hallak was fined $20 and costs, the others $2 and costs.

The Trade Agreement

About all that can be said at this juncture in support of the Canadian-United States trade agreement signed at Washington on Friday, Nov. 15, is that it is a step in the right direction and should be a prelude to further concessions in the interests of a freer flow of trade and commerce between two great neighboring and friendly countries.

Both the former Canadian administration and the newly-elected Dominion government are deserving of commendation and congratulation for their respective shares in the negotiations which culminated in a pact to promote greater commercial intercourse between two States, geographically and ethnologically designed for close relationships.

Insofar, however, as judgment can be pronounced on the tangible benefits to be derived by the citizens of the Western Canadian prairie provinces as a result of the agreement, that is a verdict which must await results demonstrable after the pact has been in operation for awhile, and perhaps for some considerable time.

This is a statement which cannot be emphasized too strongly. For it must be borne in mind that the benefits of a reciprocal commercial agreement cannot be reaped immediately the gates are flung open; nor can the maximum exchange of commodities, for which concessions have been granted, be realized in the earlier stages of the operations of an agreement.

There are good reasons for this. The amount of the duty reductions involved is by no means the only factor which determines the quantity and value of the goods exchanged between the co-operating signatories. There must be an available supply to meet a demand at the time the demand requires it. The demand must exist in the case of the supply. Trade practices and seasonal exigencies are contingencies which have to be reckoned with. New financial arrangements have to be made when commodities are diverted into new channels of trade. Existing stocks may have to be liquidated. New methods of packing and shipping may be involved.

Then, too, it should also be pointed out that a number of the commodities on which duties have been reduced under the agreement are subjected to quota restrictions and these will have some bearing in limiting the benefits to be derived.

These are only a few of the factors involved in the diversion of trade over new routes or in developing a trickle into a broad stream. There are others, and because of this, the Western Canadian producer must expect to wait awhile before he is able to reap enhanced prices for the products he expects to sell in a new market and, by the same token, the consumer cannot hope to be able to purchase overnight goods imported under a newly signed agreement at a great deal less than the price he has been accustomed to pay.

Unquestionably one of the most important concessions to Western Canadian agriculture is the reduction of the duty on live cattle exported to the United States. This is one of the items, however, on which a quota restriction is placed. The lowering of the duty will provide a needed outlet for a considerable number of cattle but, on the other hand, many cattle raisers, who have been almost driven out of the business in the past two or three years on account of drought conditions, will not be in a position to take advantage of the new market for some time.

While Western Canadian consumers will undoubtedly benefit by reduction of tariff on a number of commodities importable from the U.S.A., it should not necessarily be assumed that the benefit will be immediate on all articles covered by the agreement or even, in some cases, to the full extent of the reduction in duty. For example, it has already been announced by the radio dealers' association in Winnipeg that the lowered duty on radios will not result in reduction of price to the Canadian purchaser because radios sold in this country are made in Canada "and are considerably cheaper than the American models plus duty."

These statements are not made with any intent to belittle the agreement, the efforts of the governments who have had a hand in the pact or the ultimate results which may ensue as a result of the insertion of the thin end of the wedge, but they are made in the hope that over-optimism as to immediate results will not result in disappointment.

No matter what the operation of this first agreement may bring in the way of benefits to Western Canadian producers of exports and consumers of imports, the important thing is that it paves the way for further concessions and, it is to be hoped, in the not far distant future.

It might also well be pointed out that there are some indications that the operation of this pioneer pact may prove to be more beneficial than the more cautious commentators anticipate. The daily press reported that eastern Canadian manufacturers are apprehensive and, on the other side of the international boundary a number of interests, fearful of the effects of new Canadian imports, are planning to lodge vigorous protests at Washington. Straws show which way the wind is blowing.

This would indicate that the new agreement may be picked off into the political arena in the United States and may be a casus belli in the next national elections in that country, with what results remains to be seen. It is comforting to know that President Roosevelt has stated he believes the agreement will double the trade between the two countries within a couple of years and it may reasonably be expected that he will defend his action rather than recede from the position he has taken.

Wheat Via Churchill

A total of 12,446,000 bushels of wheat has been exported from Western Canada by way of Churchill since 1931, the directors report, presented in Regina at the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, showed. In the season just passed, 2,407,000 bushels went out of the country via the Hudson Bay route, compared with a high mark of 4,000,000 bushels in 1934.

Discontinued The Custom

Every Christmas from 1913 to 1931, the King of England was presented with "four and twenty woodcocks baked in a pie." In 1932, Donald Buckley, governor-general of the Irish Free State failed to send the traditional pastry.

Survival Of Old Days

New Weather Predictor

Magnetometer Can Forecast Conditions Two Years Ahead

Selby Maxwell, instructor in meteorology, who has been doing research work in a laboratory at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., has invented a "magnetometer" to aid him in his computations. "You can predict the world's weather for two years in advance with the same ease that you might predict a storm for to-morrow," he asserted.

Last August, he said, he knew there would be a major storm in the northeastern United States in mid-November. In October he made 12 charts of the storm's course, and placed a blue print of the storm in the hands of navy weather men and his friends.

His new principle is based on the fact that the relative motions of the earth, moon and sun are irregular, resulting in a slight motion of the earth's whole mass.

"That causes the atmosphere, which is like a fluid, to slosh back and forth over the earth, just as water will slosh out of a pan if the pan is jiggled," he said.

Maxwell predicted little snow this winter and another drought next summer.

Fashions A Telescope

Western Ontario Student Makes Himself An Efficient Instrument

A few pieces of sheet metal, some bits of a broken windshield, and Randall Cole, of Clinton, University of Western Ontario student, can watch the rings gaily spinning about Saturn, or the moons on their never-ending trail around Jupiter.

For 18 months, he devoted his spare hours to working on odds and ends, and out of them, he fashioned, at no great expense, a telescope. Recently he showed his creation to his astronomical professor, Dr. H. R. Kingston, who described it as one of the most successful telescopes for amateur purposes he has seen.

Mr. Cole made the lens out of a piece of broken windshield, grinding it himself. For the six-inch mirror, he invested in a piece of one-inch plate glass, but even in that case, he made it into a mirror himself.

Two pieces of sheet metal, rolled to resemble stove pipe, formed the base of the telescope. About it he constructed his lenses and mirrors, his delicate instruments, all of which were made out of wood, turned on his own lathe.

Royal Winter Fair

Alberta Is Heavy Winner In Cattle Class

Alberta came to fore at the Royal Winter Fair when Charles Bull, of Calgary, exhibited the winner in the senior yearling division for bulls, Hereford beef cattle section. Exhibits of Kendall Stock Co., Kew, Alta., and Frank Collicutt, Crossfield, Alta., were second and third, respectively.

Western entries also dominated the first junior yearling class with bull ribbon going to W. Crawford, Frost, Hanton, Alta., on Donald Stanley Third. In second place was Hughes Bros., High River, Alta., with Wintcroft Bardolph. The Prince of Wales ranch of High River, Alta., with Barton Orator, was judged best in the bull, two years and under three class of the Shorthorn beef cattle section.

No Vaccination Marks

Just Swallow A Pill Is The New Method

The day when little Mary will vaccinate herself by gulping down a pill was envisioned by Dr. Lloyd Arnold of the University of Illinois.

The vaccination mark will thus be done away with, the medical college professor told bacteriologists of Indiana, Michigan and Ohio. The pill, he said, will contain vaccine, or dead bacteria.

In order that this stuff may not be destroyed by digestive fluids, science plays a trick on the stomach, administering a bile pill thirty minutes before the vaccination pill is taken, he said.

As a result, the stomach remains quiet for one or two hours, and the vaccine passes on unchanged to a small intestine, where it is slowly absorbed into the blood stream.

Sounds Like Good Advice

A farmer once asked the editor of a country paper for advice, as follows: "I have a horse that at times appears normal but at other times is lame to an alarming degree. What shall I do?"

The reply came: "The next time your horse appears normal, sell him."

A New Ship Elevator

Will Be Capable Of Handling Vessels Of 11,000 Tons

A ship elevator is being constructed near Rothensee, Germany, about eight and a half miles north of Mueburg, where the Midland canal crosses the River Elbe by a large aqueduct.

The difference between the level of the water of the canal and of the river varies from about 31 feet at high tide to nearly 56 feet at low. This new elevator will resemble the famous ship elevator at Niederfinow in so far that it will be able to accommodate ships of 11,000 tons, but otherwise represents a different type of construction.

While the Niederfinow elevator rises 210 feet above the earth's surface, the new construction near Rothensee will be built deep in the ground. Instead of the water trough which carries the ships being borne up and down on wire-pulleys, here it will rest on two floats, each 50 to 95 feet, which are propelled by hydraulic pressure, and move up and down in shafts 210 feet deep.

The shafts, which have now been completed, stand over 150 feet apart and are each 53 feet thick with cast-iron interior walls, reinforced with concrete. Pillars 60 feet high carry the water through, and, like the Niederfinow elevator, the whole structure rests on an enormous concrete caisson.

Canadian Book Contest

$2,000 To Be Awarded In Prizes For The Two Best Books

Announcement is made of a contest open to any Canadian citizen who is a resident of Canada (as of Sept. 16, 1935) and who feels they have the ability to write a fiction or non-fiction book in the English language of not less than 60,000 or more than 125,000 words. The contest closes June 1st, 1936, and the winning books will be published within six months after the prize is awarded.

Eminent judges have been chosen for the contest as follows: Dr. F. H. Edgar, National President, The Canadian Authors' Association; Mr. S. Morgan-Powell, Assistant Editor-in-Chief, The Montreal Daily Star; Mr. C. R. Sanderson, Deputy Chief Librarian, Toronto Public Library.

Application blanks for the contest and further details may be obtained from George J. McLeod, Limited, 265-268 King St. West, Toronto, Ontario, Secretary, The Canadian Authors' Association, P.O. Box 1424, Montreal, Quebec.

We hope that some of our readers will enter this contest, and wish them all success in their efforts.

Curious Old Laws

Smoking On Street Is Still Illegal In Britain

A recent freak court case at Hastings caused lawyers to search the statute books and remind Britons that curious laws remain un repealed and could send anyone to jail.

Still illegal in Britain are: Smoking a cigarette in the street. Sunday radio broadcasting. Christmas dinner of more than three courses.

Giving a mince pie "an abominable and idolatrous thing."

Playing billiards on a Sunday. It is possible, according to the old laws, for anyone to be jailed for inducing another person to drink more liquor than would be good for him.

In Primitive State

Says Indians Of James Bay Area Have Changed Little In Past Centuries

Despite three centuries of missionary and other contacts with the white race, one group of Canadian Indians to-day was reported much the same as it was 1,000 years ago. Dr. Truman Michelson, Smithsonian Institute ethnologist, found last summer that the James Bay Indians in the northern part of Ontario have changed their language, customs, folklore and mythology little during the past eight or 10 centuries.

He said they probably are nearer than any other Indians to the type of primitive Algonquians who peopled eastern North America long before the white man arrived.

Famed River Drying Up

Many Ships Stranded On Sand Banks In Blue Danube

The famous Danube river is drying up—as a result of drought unprecedented for this time of year.

The Danube and Sava, which meet under the walls of Belgrade, are now lower than for more than 80 years. In many places people can wade across them.

All navigation on the Sava has been abandoned and many ships are stranded on sand banks. On the Danube only small vessels of less than four feet draught can pass.

River service between Belgrade and Vienna has stopped.

Willing To Help

Charles Phillips in his "Pade-re-wal" tells a story of Lord Balfour. In 1917, Balfour was in Washington, and one evening at dinner he handed back the menu card to the Negro waiter and, placing a generous tip by his plate, said, "Just bring me a good meal." A very good meal was served, and the same thing happened several times.

On the last occasion the tip was troubled. "Thank you, sah," said the Negro, "an' if you done got any othah frien's w'at can't read, you jes' send 'em to me, sah."

Life Insurance

Companies Have A Mission To Perform That Is Vital To The Future

The Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association is "the biggest of the big interests," but that is a reason for pride and not apology. Finance Minister Charles Dunning told members attending the 42nd annual meeting of the association at Toronto. Mr. Dunning spoke briefly.

Representing assets of $2,500,000,000, and acting on behalf of 3,500,000 policy-holders life insurance men have a duty of trusteeship to perform that is vital to the future of Canada, Mr. Dunning asserted.

"There is scarcely a big interest in this country," he remarked, "that is not in reality an intricate system of trusteeship. Without you, and the trusteeship of $2,500,000,000 which you represent, Canada would be in a vastly different place than it is today."

Big interests must not be regarded as sinister just because they were big, said Mr. Dunning, in urging insurance officials to stress their trusteeship to the people.

Making Canada His Home

Young Boy Travels Alone From England To Edmonton

Looking as neat and fresh as though he had just stepped out of an English grammar school to spend a "half holiday," nine-year-old Norman Bell completed a 5,000 mile journey from Durham, England, all alone. Left an orphan last Christmas with the death of his father, Norman's yearning for adventure and sight-seeing apparently turned toward Canada and when he received an invitation from his uncle, Arthur S. Jackson, 11820 93rd street, to come to live with him in Edmonton, he readily accepted.

The United Kingdom is the most foot-conscious country in the Old World and buys more shoes per foot than any other country, except the United States, according to organizers of the Shoe and Leather Fair at the Royal Agricultural Hall in London.

Air Route Between Canada And Britain Is Recommended

Ottawa.—Canada was understood to have recommended to the Imperial Trans-Atlantic Airway conference establishment of an airmail service between Canada and Ireland via Newfoundland and North Sydney, N.S., as the Canadian terminus and Harbor Grace as the intermediate stop in Newfoundland.

Canadian experts who examined three possible projects for a trans-Atlantic airway between the British Isles and Canada were said to have decided some time ago that the route followed in 1919 by Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Brown, first men to fly the Atlantic, was the most feasible for extension of the empire's air communication into Canada.

It was said that the chain of Canadian airports and emergency landing fields being constructed from coast to coast across the country was launched on the presumption that the Canadian end of the Atlantic service would be at North Sydney. However, two other routes were considered possible, one via Bermuda and one via the "roof of the world," Greenland, Iceland and the Faroe Islands.

All these routes present certain disadvantages as well as advantages. Both the Newfoundland and Greenland routes contain the menace of freezing atmospheric vapor which causes ice to form on the wings of aeroplanes. It is understood, however, that the Government hopes this winter to evolve a means of successfully combating this menace.

Chief disadvantage of the Bermuda route is that it is longer than either of the northern projects. Already a $250,000 seaplane base is under construction in the Bermuda Isles but it is believed to be intended primarily for a service between Great Britain and the United States, although it could be extended to the Canadian Maritime provinces.

A tentative agreement between Imperial Airways and Pan American Airways is said to call for a British service between the United Kingdom and Bermuda and an American service between the island and New York. The Bermuda route contains no ice threat.

Another disadvantage of service over Greenland, Iceland and the Faroes, is that these countries are under Danish control, a fact that would make airways over them owned by other countries dependent on continued Danish friendship.

Extension of the Atlantic service across Canada with modern, high-speed planes would bring Vancouver within about three days communication with the United Kingdom.

Chinese Girls Guide Tourists

Shanghai, China.—Modern young Chinese girls are being trained as tourist guides by the Shanghai guiding service. The girls, stylishly dressed, are many of them, from well-to-do families. They work for 25 cents an hour conducting parties on tours of shops, sightseeing or on social tours.

Grenoble, France, recently had a rain of thousands of green frogs.

Atlantic Air Mail Service

Discussions At Ottawa Expected To Speed Up Activity

Ottawa, Ont.—Airmail discussions between representatives of Great Britain, the Irish Free State, Newfoundland and Canada concluded and it is confidently expected that, as a result of the conference, airmail activity in Canada will be greatly accelerated next year.

The main topic of discussion has been the launching of a trans-Atlantic airmail service. Such a service will require heavy mail subsidies and a knotty problem to be solved is to apportion the total subsidy among Great Britain, the three Dominions as well as the United States. So far as the technical end of the service goes, practically all of the work, so far as the empire is concerned, will have to be done by Imperial Airways and the interviews given out by the British delegates clearly state that rapid progress is being made. What Canada must decide is the extent and nature of the land facilities which will be required and the contribution which will be made to the support of the trans-Atlantic service.

Increase In Employment

Level Higher Than In Any Month Since December 1930

Ottawa.—An employment gain in Canada of 14,893 persons between Oct. 1 and Nov. 1 was reported by the Dominion bureau of statistics. The bureau said the Nov. 1 payroll of 9,482 firms making returns stood at 1,012,103 persons compared with 997,300 on Oct. 1.

The bureau reported the employment level at Nov. 1 was higher than at any month since Dec. 1, 1930. It said particularly important improvements occurred in logging while highway and building construction, mining, retail trade and manufacturing also contributed gains.

Will Protect Consumers

Regulation To Prevent "Cut Throat Competition" In Alberta

Edmonton.—Full protection of consumers under any business code to be adopted in Alberta will be demanded by the government, Premier Aberhart declared in commenting on discussions between retail and wholesale merchants and the government toward establishment of regulations to prevent "cut-throat competition" in the trade. It was reported that the government took the view that retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers must join in drawing up their own codes and then have their proposals approved by the government.

Aviator Promoted

Edmonton.—C. H. "Punch" Dickinson, superintendent of Mackenzie river district, Canadian Airways, Limited, and winner in 1928 of the McKee trophy for outstanding aviation, has been promoted to general superintendent of northern aviation for the company, it was learned here.

Find Lost Mine

Rich Copeland Mine In Northern Ontario Believed Located

Hudson, Ont.—The word went around in this western Ontario mining district that the lost log Copeland mine, a mine that promised riches in the early years of the century, had been found.

The mine was abandoned and when efforts were made to locate it recently it could not be found. An accident some days ago revealed the Copeland. Two miners of the nearby Sakosko gold mines tripped over a rusty shovel while walking through dense brush. The finding of the shovel led to an extended search of the area.

A quartz vein containing free gold was uncovered. A plentiful sprinkling of rose quartz in the vein indicated that the find, almost beyond doubt, was the Copeland.

Pool Agencies

Increase In Profits Is Shown For Fiscal Year

Calgary.—Canadian Pool Agencies, insurance subsidiary of the western wheat pools, showed a distinct increase in profits for the fiscal year, according to reports presented at the annual meeting of the Alberta wheat pool here.

Profits were shown as $50,562.70, compared with $37,241.50 in the preceding fiscal year. Increased shipments by the Saskatchewan pool through Churchill was given as one of the features of the increased earnings.

The report of the director of the Alberta Junior Wheat Club movement showed 69 clubs in operation with 1,094 members. Five years ago there were only 15 clubs and 200 members.

Training German Children

All Over Ten Must Prepare For Labor Service

Berlin.—German boys and girls over the age of 10 will undergo special training to prepare them for the compulsory labor service in the third Reich, the Nazi government announced.

The boys will have additional preparation for the obligatory military service which they must perform after their terms in labor camps.

Both young men and young women must serve in compulsory labor camps under the law intended to make the German nation physically and mentally fit to meet any domestic or foreign crisis.

License All Merchants

New Regulation For Alberta Beginning January 1st

Edmonton.—All wholesale and retail merchants in Alberta will be licensed by the provincial government beginning January 1, it was announced by Premier Aberhart. The move, it was said, is being made at the instance of the merchants themselves, and in some quarters is regarded as a preliminary to a system of merchandising codes of minimum or fixed prices on specific products in Alberta.

Cost of the license has not been decided, it was revealed, but is expected to be about $3 each.

New Radio Station

Edmonton.—Forging the last link in an aviation chain of private short wave radio stations linking northern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba and extending into the northwest mining area as far as Cameron Bay, N.W.T., a radio station is being opened in the offices of Canadian Airways, Limited, here, C. H. "Punch" Dickinson, company superintendent, announced.

MENTIONED IN CABINET SHAKE-UP

At the left is Earl Winterton, former under-secretary of state for India, who is slated to take the place of William Ormsby Gore, right, First Commissioner of Works, who may become the new Minister of Public Works in the British Cabinet.

TO BE ROYAL HOSTESS

When George II. resumes his duties as King of Greece after an extended exile, which ended with a recent plebiscite in his favor, his sister, Princess Helen, will reign as "royal hostess" instead of his estranged wife who is not in popular favour with her former subjects. Princess Helene divorced King Carol of Roumania a few years ago.

Would Abolish Senate

De Valera Makes New Move For Irish Free State

Dublin, Irish Free State.—Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish Free State, made a new move for abolition of the senate.

He tabled a motion in the daily eireann resolving that the bill known as "constitution amendment No. 24" be sent to the senate. The bill will consider it Dec. 5.

The bill in question proposes to abolish the senate. It has been held up for 18 months following its rejection by the senate. Under the constitution, after 18 months the government is empowered to send a defeated bill to the senate again.

If the upper house again rejects it, it can, nevertheless, become law within 60 days.

Working On Proposal

Unemployment Commission Is Receiving Attention Of Premier King

Ottawa.—Completion of the basic details of a national unemployment commission, a plank in the Liberal government's program, is understood to be one of the activities which engaged the attention of Prime Minister Mackenzie King during his visit to a Georgia seashore resort.

Some weeks ago the premier said it would be the intention of the government to have the unemployment commission practically completed before the Dominion-provincial conference which opens Dec. 9. The commission will be patterned somewhat after the Canadian patriotic fund commission. It will be an honorary commission with a salaried executive.

Terror Man Sentenced

Winchester, England.—Arthur Charles Mortimer, called a "terror man" for his alleged practice of running down girl cyclists while driving a stolen automobile, was found guilty of murder and sentenced to death. The six-foot-tall lance corporal, stationed at Aldershot barracks, was found guilty of fatally wounding Mrs. Phyllis Mary Oakes, a beautiful private secretary, by deliberately running her down Aug. 8.

Increasing Economic And Social Difficulties Trouble Germany

History Making Flight

China Clipper Keeps To Schedule On Pacific Trip

Alameda, Calif.—Completing her history-making flight from California, the giant China Clipper settled down on the waters of Manila bay in the Philippine Islands, Pan American Airways was informed here.

Eleven hours, 25 minutes out of Guam, starting point of her last lap, the unpowered craft alighted after spending nearly an hour circling about Manila. Accompanying her on the leisurely tour were several army and navy planes.

Favored by good tail winds the flying boat shot through the air at an average speed of approximately 144 miles an hour—better than two and one-quarter miles a minute—with the first load of air mail ever to be carried across the Pacific ocean.

Total flying time for the trip was 60 hours, four minutes, or four minutes over the time specified in the Pan American Airways airmail charter.

The last leg of the flight was the 1,700-mile hop from Guam Island, a stretch never before spanned by an aeroplane. The Clipper's 25 minutes—

Berlin.—Threat of a new purge hung over high Nazi officials as they gathered in secret meeting to be addressed by Chancellor Hitler.

Just as the session was about to open, it was made known that Der Fuehrer had ordered an investigation of alleged abuses by some party chiefs and measures to deal with them.

Pressure of increasing economic and social difficulties has brought a long-developing crisis within the party to a head, it was stated. This situation has been aggravated by some dissatisfaction among the citizenry, arising from a shortage of essential food products, according to informed sources.

Germany faces the coming winter with the knowledge that the number of unemployed probably will increase. It is understood official estimates are that the figure will jump to 1,500,000. The government is said to be planning a series of rigid economies.

The personal popularity of Hitler is generally regarded as being unimpaired. His friends believe he will be able to deal effectively with the situation.

One high Berlin party leader has been imprisoned for falsification. Similar abuses, it was said, had been discovered in Berlin and elsewhere.

War Threat Diminished

More Conciliatory Attitude Is Adopted By Italy

Rome.—Indications of a more conciliatory attitude by Italy towards other members of the League of Nations have appeared and informed quarters asserted the threat of a European war was diminished.

Disturbed by reports published abroad that Italy might reply with war or war-like gestures, to the proposed oil embargo by league members, Premier Mussolini authorized his press bureau to deny categorically that a new general mobilization was impending.

Denials were issued as follows to other sensational reports published abroad.

There has been no concentration of troops on the French frontier. The government has anticipated no act of hostility from France.

Italy is not recalling its minister from Cairo.

The lira is not being devalued. The minister of propaganda, moreover, was especially authorized to deny that the Italian ambassador in Paris, Vittorio Cerruti, had warned Premier Laval that applications of the oil embargo would be considered an act of hostility toward Italy.

It was stated, however, that any embargo act which would hurt the Italian people would naturally be considered as an "inimical gesture."

Threat Of War If Oil Embargo Enforced By League Of Nations

Rome.—Responsible persons with high connections said a war that might be a world war would be certain to result if the League of Nations places an oil embargo upon Italy.

These persons were not officials. They said Premier Mussolini, at a midnight session of the Fascist grand council, Nov. 18, adopted this three-point program to be used if such an embargo is applied:

1. Italy would withdraw her ambassadors and ministers from all "enemy" countries (those applying the oil sanctions).
2. Italy would quit the League of Nations.
3. Italy's "death squad" air force of the navy would strike immediately at the British Mediterranean fleet. The "death squad" reported to be a force of 125 pilots pledged to go to certain death. Each would carry one huge bomb in his plane, pick out an enemy warship and dive upon the vessel.

It would be a sudden, desperate drive in an attempt to break through the ring of 52 belligerent nations, these sources said. Knowledge of this program, these sources continued, caused postponement of a meeting of a League of Nations committee to consider an oil embargo.

London.—Undaunted by Premier Mussolini's war-like preparations at home the government was understood to have decided to ask the League of Nations for an oil embargo against Italy when the sanctions committee next meets.

Information has been received here that Il Duce has decided once more to reinforce the Libyan-Egyptian frontier. Rome views the threatened oil embargo as a serious threat to Italy.

(A Havas despatch from Alexandria said it had been learned from reliable sources that Mussolini would order the army division already withdrawn from Libya as a peace gesture sent back to the Egyptian frontier again.)

Meanwhile, Anglo-French talks for an Ethiopian peace have been greeted with satisfaction here. Private information from Rome indicates that since economic sanctions went into effect Il Duce has become much less exacting in his attitude.

Geneva.—France is not opposed to applications of League of Nations sanctions forbidding exportation of oil to Italy, league officials said as the league general staff ruled that Italian importers should receive no commercial credit.

Plan To Close All Relief Camps During The Coming Year

Ottawa.—The Dominion government hopes to close all relief camps during the coming year, Hon. Norman McL. Rogers, minister of labor, announced.

Mr. Rogers also announced appointment of a committee of three to make personal investigations and reports on certain problems raised by the pending transfers of these relief camps from the department of national defence.

The committee will consist of R. A. Rigg, chief of the Dominion employment service; Humphrey Mitchell, former labor member for Hamilton East in the federal house, and Dr. E. W. Bradwin, president of the Frontier College. Dr. Bradwin lives in Toronto and the minister referred to his recent qualifications for the work to be done because of his connection with an organization which conducts educational work in frontier labor camps.

The committee will start work immediately and intends visiting as many as possible of the 100-odd camps in Canada. The majority of these camps are located in British Columbia and Alberta. Approximately 20,000 men are in them at present.

In the past they have been run by the department of national defence, but steps for their transfer to the labor department were taken soon after the present government assumed office. The entire cost of the camps has been assumed by the Dominion.

In making his announcement, Mr. Rogers emphasized the object was to get camp workers back into regular employment. He felt that with improved conditions the field for them would open gradually. It would be the object of the government to see that they were engaged in work which would be of genuine use while they were in the camps.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

THE GREAT indoorsport or pastime on Sunday for many is listening to radio programs. Such a variety is supplied from all points of the compass that you can take your choice of highbrow and lowbrow, religion, politics and tomfoolery. The majority like to be amused, and the radio provides the amusement.

Major Bowes with his amateur hour, Premier Aberhart with his political propaganda, Eddie Cantor with his wisecracks which sometimes shock prim spinsters if they are listening, serious-minded hot gospellers exhorting all and sundry to forsake their sinful ways, tooth powders, "six delicious flavors," and scores of other things, including Blue Ribbon beer, all add variety to entertainment via the air waves.

One lady on Sunday night was singing 'Saviour, pilot me,' in so realistic a manner, that you could almost imagine her floating away on the ebbing tide to realms of peace and happiness, e'en though her singing didn't sound so happy. In fact, she sounded as if she was really singing her 'swan song' and was being carried on the tide of life into the unknown.

One great advantage is that you can switch from morbid, melancholy outpourings to something more wild and woolly, for there is something to suit all tastes, high and low, rich and poor. Variety adds to the spice of life, and the radio furnishes the variety, though some of it is atrocious, even this, for instance!

IT IS a bright and happy world most of the time, and the march of time makes living conditions easier, despite what long-faced pessimists may say to the contrary. The trouble is that quack politicians have been encouraging people to lean on governments too much for their own good. Instead of developing rugged individualism of the type which pioneered new countries the tendency is to develop a type of slaves bound on every hand by government regulations. When a government has to provide a living for people, they are on the road to becoming slaves to a system. But there's always a lot of people who follow the bell sheep. Human nature in the mass is just built that way. The more you rely on others to do things for you, the weaker your backbone becomes.

BUT WITH Christmas almost here, thoughts turn to things merry and bright, remembrances of childhood, lived again in watching the young folks enjoy themselves. What a blessed thing it is to have occasions such as this to brighten the path of life. It is indeed a poor heart that never rejoiceth, though some make pay-day a regular habit of rejoicing.

WHILE WE are on this subject, there are a few who make a nuisance of themselves by drinking too much. An example of those who want to fight every time they get an extra shot or two would curb this fortnightly nuisance in the down-town section. It is alright to show leniency, but when men become public nuisances, it is time the law stepped in and made it known that this cannot be tolerated. If a man wants to get stewed, he should go off somewhere where he can holler and fight to his heart's content without showing off his damfoolishness to the general public, who detest this kind of thing.

PREMIER Aberhart states he will ban liquor advertising in newspapers, magazines, radio and billboards. The loss to The Journal is at least $200 per year. This evidently is not a Social Credit dividend. Increased taxes for the province are also forecast. Now he is finding where the money is coming from. Incidentally the brewers did not want to abolish advertising, as stated in an Edmonton news despatch. It is often the case that the very people who depend largely on newspapers for free publicity of their activities, make the biggest noise in cutting down the newspaper's legitimate sources of revenue. A group of Tuxis boys, according to Aberhart, asked him to abolish liquor advertising. Why didn't they go further, and pass a resolution against the government being a partner in this supposedly evil traffic. The inconsistency and narrow attitude of some fanatics gets one's goat. They do not refuse to take the so-called "tainted money" when it comes to crowding on all the taxes they can without destroying the source of revenue from licenses and taxes. Consistency, thou art a jewel! One can imagine the noise if all Social Credit supporters had their incomes cut down. Its alright with them as long as someone else gets soaked.

"EVERY little bit added to what you've got makes just a little bit more." So rang an old song which is very true. Every little bit of effort towards a better and more progressive town helps. Coleman's mayor also believes it too, for he has done his part in seeing that full value has been received on useful improvements. Stay with the ship!

LOCAL AND GENERAL

An automobile driven by a gentleman from Calgary with five in the car crashed through the side of the bridge a short distance east of Michel. It dropped 15 feet to the creek bed, but beyond a shaking up no injuries were sustained. The car was badly damaged from the fall. Driving too fast and not being able to make the curve approaching the bridge is reported to have caused the accident.

Nov. 22, were post marked at Honolulu at 11 a. m., Nov. 23, and returning by steamship reached Coleman, Dec. 8. These covers will be treasured and will increase in value as the years pass. It is stated that the mail on this airship reached 88,000 letters besides other matter.

Death of William Harrison, Sr.

The above gentleman, aged 89 years, died at Lulu Island, B. C., where he lived for nine years, prior to that living in Coleman. His wife died in West Hartlepool, Eng., from injuries received in a German air raid during the war. He lived in Coleman with his daughter, Mrs. T. Muir, prior to going to the coast. William Harrison of Coleman, his son, attended the funeral.

During the time he lived here he operated a small motor boat on Crow's Nest lake and spent many an enjoyable hour fishing. He led quite an eventful life, in his younger days sailing in the merchant marine to all parts of the world. Many Coleman people have kindly remembrances of the old gentleman,

Mounties Study Law

Five Members Taking Course At Universities In Canada

The famed Royal Canadian Mounted Police Force which has many "mounted" members to-day, is striking out in a new direction with the purpose of increasing its efficiency "to always get their jobs done."

In conjunction with a new move instituted by Commissioner Sir James MacBrien, drill instructor H. Perison is attending law school at the University of Alberta, one of five members taking such a course.

Another who qualified for this special training is Lance Corporal James MacBrien, drill instructor of the Saint John detachment and son of the commissioner.

It is understood a "mountie" is attending law lectures at each of the following places: Dalhousie University, Halifax; University of New Brunswick, Saint John; McGill University, Montreal; University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, and University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Carrying Out Contract

Bodies Of Chinese Being Sent To Native Land

A contract with the dead, assuring their peaceful rest by the side of their honorable ancestors in far away China, was on its way to fulfillment.

In Mount Auburn cemetery of Stoney at Chicago, diggers were exhuming the bodies of 400 Orientals under direction of the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association. During their lifetime it had pledged on conditions of payment of a stipulated fee that it would insure their final interment in the land of their fathers and in the sepulchres of their families.

Murder Among Birds

Curator Tells Of Many Tragedies He Has Seen

"Birds often murder each other," according to P. A. Traverer, curator of birds at the National Museum, Ottawa, a delegate at the convention of the American Ornithologists' Union. "It's not always the big birds that kill the little birds. Birds will tackle others of their own species, just like humans."

During his rambles while studying birds Mr. Traverer has several times come upon the remains of murdered birds, and often seen the deed committed. There are even murder mysteries, he says.

"A case of wanton murder occurred in a long-bill gullery on a small stony island near the north end of Lake Winnipeg. Young gulls of all ages were hiding between boulders and under weeds while a few of the older ones were paddling in the water off shore. The adults had taken to wing and circled in great excitement over a nearby lake. One of the large birds, while it winged by, took what seemed to be a casual peck at one of the birds swimming. The young bird was distressed and as if its disorganized struggles were a signal, a considerable portion of the adults turned on the unfortunate bird and in a few moments only a few drifting feathers were left to tell of the tragedy."

Another time Mr. Traverer saw a small hawk that had dared to fly through a flock of gulls, glide down to the water, and the whole flock set upon it, leaving only a little blotch of brown jessam. A red-tailed hawk and a raven fought to the death on Point Pelee, and another clear case of murder occurred in a gallery in the St. Lawrence, when a young gull wandered out of its territory and was killed with one stroke of the heavy bill of another gull.

Cousin Pays Visit

Buffalo Resident Comes To Canada To Greet Lord Tweedsmuir

William Buchanan Reid of Buffalo, who used to go to school in Scotland with a young cousin, John Buchan, whom he regarded as a dreamer, crossed the border on his way to Ottawa to see, for the first time in 20 years, the young dreamer, now Lord Tweedsmuir and governor-general of Canada.

The cousin's last saw one another in Aberdeen, Scotland, four decades ago. William Reid is four years older than the governor-general.

"John was brought up in a manse and I on a farm," Mr. Reid said here, "but we went to the same school together. I was not surprised to hear he had become a writer, for he was always a bookworm. Nor was I surprised when they elected him to the house of commons. But when he became governor-general of Canada, I thought it was about time to look him up again."

Delicious Crisp Cookies

This Recipe Proves They Are Easy To Make

Temperature: 400 degrees F. Time: 15 minutes.

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup "Crown Brand" Corn Syrup
2 eggs, unbeaten
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup Benson's Corn Starch
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts

Method: Melt the chocolate in the top of a double boiler. Remove from heat and add the shortening, sugar, "Crown Brand" Corn Syrup, eggs, flour, Benson's Corn Starch and vanilla, beating the whole mixture thoroughly, being sure the eggs are added one at a time. Spread the mixture on baking sheets which have been oiled with Mazola. Sprinkle with nuts and bake in the oven. Cool while warm. These cookies are very crisp and easily made.

Substitute For Explosives

Compressed Air Used For Dislodging Coal In Mines

A blast of compressed air is being used for dislodging coal from seams in some Illinois and Indiana mines, instead of explosives. Heavy steel cylinders charged with air at a pressure up to 15,000 pounds to the square inch are inserted in drill holes. The air is released through a valve operated by remote control. The coal is pushed out of the seam in larger chunks than when blasted and is therefore more valuable. The greater safety for the miners is the prime factor.—New York Herald Tribune.

New Census Of Stars

Discloses Number, Size Of Sun, Not Previously Identified

An astronomical star census, by a new method reported to the National Academy of Sciences at Charlottesville, Va., increases the theoretical mathematical chances of life like that on earth existing elsewhere in the universe.

This report does not discuss the possibilities of life, but shows a larger number of stars the size of our sun than previously identified. Its new star census fits directly into the statistics by which astronomers have been calculating the chances that there might be other suns with planet families and evolutions just like ours.

Such an "accident" was once considered remote. Lately the almost incredible multiplication in the estimated numbers of stars has led astronomers to consider the "accident" of exact similarity more possible, and the census shows the existence of an increased number of specific places where there might be duplication.

The star count was made on "dwarf" and "giant" stars by P. Van de Kamp and A. N. Vysotsky of the Leander McCormick observatory, University of Virginia.

Forgotten Fortunes

British National Debt Commission Holding Sum Totalling $20,000,000

Forgotten fortunes being held by the British National Debt Commissioners now total nearly $20,000,000 according to an announcement in London. The sum represents the value of British Government securities and their accumulated dividends which have never been claimed by the original purchasers. One of these holdings—in Consols—is worth nearly $1,000,000. No one has ever attempted to claim it. An English woman living in Marseilles, France, did not even know that she possessed a fortune amounting to $230,000 with accumulated dividends totalling nearly $100,000. For years she had lived by borrowing or begging from relatives or neighbors. "It is difficult to give the reasons for the oversight of what in many cases are substantial fortunes," an official of the National Debt Commissioners said.

NEHEMIAH REBUILDING THE WALL OF JERUSALEM

Golden text: The people had a mind to work. Nehemiah 4:5.
Lesson: Nehemiah 2:1 to 7:4.
Devotional reading: Psalm 4:6.

Explanations And Comments

The ridicule of Sanballat and Tobiah, 4:1-6. "What are these feeble Jews up to?" mockingly questioned Sanballat before his brethren and the army of Samaria. "Do they think they can do it all in a day? Do they expect to bring the stones to life out of the heaps of rubbish?" And Tobiah joined in the ridicule. "That stone wall which they are building," he said, "will be broken down if a fox tries to scale it." Their words were repeated to Nehemiah, and he appealed to God to judge them.

The City of God. The City of God is the city of the living, the city of the redeemed, the city of the saints. It is the city of the living, the city of the redeemed, the city of the saints. It is the city of the living, the city of the redeemed, the city of the saints.

The secret of much of the failure in the lives of men, the ground for much of the finest success, may easily be traced to the way in which they regard the work which they are doing. The secret of much of the failure in the lives of men, the ground for much of the finest success, may easily be traced to the way in which they regard the work which they are doing.

Many Enemies Conspire Together to Stop the Work, 4:7, 9, 11. Common hatred has a wonderful power of uniting former foes, and the various peoples of the land, Arabians, Ammonites, Ashdodites, as well as Sanballat and Tobiah, were no exception. When they learned that the work of rebuilding the wall was progressing rapidly and that the breaks were being filled in they were greatly angered. They feared to have Jerusalem again a powerful political center, for they feared that this fear was their hatred of the religious ideals that inspired its rebuilding. They agreed to go to Jerusalem to get the work stopped, but when they came they found the work progressing so rapidly that they were unable to do so. They were greatly angered. They feared to have Jerusalem again a powerful political center, for they feared that this fear was their hatred of the religious ideals that inspired its rebuilding.

Building and Battling, 4:13-23. Forewarned, forearmed. Therefore, in the lowest spaces behind the walls and in the open spaces, Nehemiah placed people with arms, arrows for their hands, and spears for their feet. As the enemy drew near, the Jews were ready to fight. They were greatly angered. They feared to have Jerusalem again a powerful political center, for they feared that this fear was their hatred of the religious ideals that inspired its rebuilding.

The Wall Finished, 6:15-7:4. Despite all opposition from enemies and all fears and weaknesses of workers, the wall was completed in a short space of 52 days. With great rejoicing a solemn dedication was held, which will be our text next week.

Tomb Among Buddhists

U.S. Scientist Will Be Buried In Chinese Monastery

Alan Priest, curator of the Oriental department of the Metropolitan Museum has a newly completed tomb waiting for him in the Buddhist monastery of Chief Tai Sau, or the Monastery of the "Dwelling Place of the Gods." The religious structure, 25 miles from Peiping, dates back to the third century A.D.

In the communal graveyard, dating back to the Ming dynasty, Mr. Priest has his tomb. It is the typical Buddhist form of shaped, gray bricks, rising ten feet and looking not unlike a creme de menthe bottle. It is overshadowed by a great pagoda and other shrines 400 years old. Giant evergreen trees equally ancient give shade.

At present the plaque on the tomb merely carries the date of erection in Chinese characters, but it might some day include the character "Priest." Mr. Priest's name in Chinese.

In order to receive this special favor of resting in death among the monks, the American made friends with the chief abbot of Chief Tai Sau, a minor war and looking not unlike a creme de menthe bottle. It is overshadowed by a great pagoda and other shrines 400 years old. Giant evergreen trees equally ancient give shade.

Grim Curio For Sale

Cabinet Owned by Notorious Poisoner Has Sinister History

A large, highly-ornamented cabinet, with a sinister history, was on view in London at Selfridge's recently.

It was given to Lucrezia Borgia, the notorious "mama" poisoner of the Renaissance period, by her brother, Caesar. It contains dozens of secret drawers in which Lucrezia is reputed to have kept liquors and wines. The most interesting feature, however, is the key, in the handle of which is hidden a needle which remained embedded in a deadly poison.

Lucrezia's enemies often attempted to open the cabinet, but their ignorance of the existence of the needle meant a swift death in terrible agony.

The cabinet was later given by Cardinal de Medici to Czar Alexander I, and remained in the possession of the House of Romanoff until 1917. It was often admired by Rasputin.

It is now owned by Baron von Landauer, and is for sale at £2,000.

DEMAND AND GET "ASPRIN"

FLEMING'S FOLLY

—BY— LAWRENCE A. KEATING

CHAPTER I.

Chill with promise of approaching winter, a low mooning, sighing wind curled down from the moon peaked Captain Mountains twenty miles west to devils dance with macabre glee in the wide main street of the cowtown of Rawhide.

Buckboard teams and saddle horses lined the juniper hitchhairs before Sam Pickett's General Store, the false fronted Half Moon Saloon, and the three-story Tralldon Hotel across the street. With ears flapped and muzzles lowered between their knees, roans, mustangs, and bronks knickered together in morose resignation to the sting and nip of dust-swirls that now and then all but hid them from view.

Through broad, hazy windows of the hotel lobby could be seen the meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called by the owner of the modest Star Loop Ranch, Link Fleming. Every prairie-lanced countenance was etched in lines of gravity, every ear attuned to the words of the twenty-three year old speaker in cowhide vest and work trousers who, with sombrero tilted on his high forehead, faced the crowd from the elevation of a round-backed hickory chair.

Fleming, Link let his brown eyes, set wide apart and flecked with grey, sweep slowly, hopefully over the twenty-odd men who waited in absorbed interest. He lowered a snowy brown hand to his cartridge belt and shifted the heavy forty-five to a new position on his thigh. Clearing his throat, he held up a paper and continued:

"Reckon every one of you got a message like mine. It says here Uncle Sam don't want us to graze the foothills ranges any more. The reason is, grass up there has got thin and worn out, and never had the chance for a comeback. We've wiped those ranges almost clean, until every cow needs twelve or fifteen acres. When you started runnin' beef in this section, Seth Howland, what acreage did a steer use up?"

At the sudden focus of attention on him, Howland, a lank, watery-eyed veteran of Texas trails, blinked startledly. He rolled the inevitable quid from one hollow cheek to the other and back again. Seth swallowed and shifted weight.

"Feed was plentiful," he answered finally. "Reckon yuh could say half the acreage'd do as much then as now. Maybe less."

"And nobody tried to tell you whether you could graze here or there or some other place. Did they?"

A dozen pairs of eyes moved from Seth to the somewhat flushed face of Buzz Hamilton, young manager of his own and his absent sister Helen's Triple H spread. Buzz removed the drooping brown paper cigarette from his mouth. It was plain from his scornful tone and attitude that before coming here he had paused at the Half Moon Saloon for liquid refreshment which always had the effect of making him surly.

"Nobody ever could tell a Texan man nothin'," Howland agreed with pride. "The range was free in them days, like it oughta be free now."

ly. "I'm for fightin' out, in case irrigation'd be a good thing. Especially 'cause like Pieper told us, boys, we can't fight the whole U.S. Army."

"Let's hear what Link's got to say," he went on in a persuasive tone. "I never thought much about water 'til I dead land, but Fleming's talked it a long time, and I reckon he's gone into it plumb thorough. Tells me he got Soak Torney to draw up plans for a scheme to irrigate the whole valley. I'm with you gent on whatever's decided, but this grainin' order means business, so we ought to look into the water question."

Link felt a thrill of relief as the words brought instant pause. He had begun to fear from Roper's silence that he was failing him. No particular friends, this was one of the rare occasions on which they found themselves working in harmony. Fleming had ridden to the Box 5 yesterday to win this powerful support for his irrigation scheme—at which Kilgo, like most other ranchers, had always scoffed. But the grazing order seemed to make him reconsider, for he owned the largest herd of beef cattle in Boone County.

"Tell yuh, Link," Roper had declared after the visitor outlined his purpose, "I'll do what I can to have the boys think it over. Can't promise they'll back it, but I guess we're all willin' to be shown."

This was indeed a concession, and it roused hope in the Star Loop owner. "That's all I ask," he grinned eagerly. "If you'll help get the men in a receptive frame of mind I'll explain to them. If they reject it we haven't lost anything. And if they go in for it this country will be a changed place!"

Kilgo had studied his visitor shrewdly. "Then yuh don't think irrigation is just a crazy, newfangled idea?"

"Not at all. I'll not only save you from ruin, but it will make every spread more prosperous than ever before. Your place can benefit plenty."

"Well, I'm always open-minded to a good thing. I'll get yuh a hearin'!" Link, Reckon if Roper Kilgo says 'Boys, listen to this,' they'll listen. Eh?"

It was true enough. He was the most influential citizen of Boone County—and Link had come to suspect, the real power behind local affairs. He was virtually county boss, a czar, jealous of his prestige and ruling with an iron fist. The man who dared interfere with or oppose Roper was doomed to defeat. There were whispered stories almost beyond belief, of certain persons he had marked with his wrath, and the series of misfortunes which came their way after that. More than one small-rancher finally had sold out for a pitiful sum, his acres and steers becoming part of the Box 5 while the man himself hurriedly shook Boone County dust from his boots and never was heard of again.

Roper's influence defied analysis: it appeared to be a strange combination of brute force and personal magnetism. A number of ranchers constantly owed him sums of money, although the Stockmen's Bank existed to care for just such financial matters. Other men were indebted to him for various services, real or imagined. Still others gave blind allegiance as in all ages and in all climes the weak obey the strong. The Box 5 owner was strong, he was forceful. With a round, black-thatched head set on bull-like shoulders, he was as powerful physically as he was relentless when crossed, and determined on every project he undertook.

He (after being turned down): "I'm not worrying; there's a lot more fish in the sea."

Sher: "Yes, and if nobody's got a better line than you have they'll all stay there."

Still Holds Public Interest

News About Little Prince Of Kent Is eagerly Read

The recently born Prince of Kent, who may some day sit upon the mighty throne of England, is competing these days most successfully with war news and what the Prince of Wales wore.

The most minute details of how the baby son of the Duke and Duchess of Kent is progressing are devoured by the British public.

In drawing room, banquet hall and "pub" there is a new toast in vogue—"To the new prince."

He is the fifth grandchild and the third grandson of the King and Queen, and will have the title of royal highness. Since 1917, this title has been confined to the issue of any British sovereign and to the issue of the sons of the sovereign.

The Little Prince is related to half of Europe. In his veins flows royal German blood from his grandmother, who was a Princess of Teck, and from the King, grandson of Alberta the Good of Sax-Coburg-Gotha.

The royal baby is also related to Russian, Danish and Roumanian royalty.

A new coat of arms must be chosen for the highborn baby. The College of Arms will design it, and it must be approved by the King.

Ex-Prisoner Makes Good

Studies Advertising And Builds Up An Envious Business

Years spent behind the grim walls of Ohio penitentiary showed Daniel Boggs, now only 31 years of age, the way to earn an honest fortune.

Since he was released from the penal institution less than a year ago through executive clemency, Boggs has built up an enviable advertising business and now has three offices.

During his sentence in the penitentiary Boggs studied advertising and became an advertising writer to earn money to provide financial aid to his aged mother and four sisters. They depended on him before he was "taken away."

He won the admiration of advertising men in Columbia, O., by his aptitude for copy-writing ability and while behind the walls he built a thriving mail order business.

Upon his release he was offered a job in Cincinnati at $75 a week. He declined the offer and remained here to establish his own concern.

Boggs is blazing a glorious trail along the "come-back" path and as a doctor to all business firms he has proven quite successful.

Famous Paintings For Rent

University Trying To Foster Deeper Appreciation For Art

Hall bedrooms that never saw any better art than movie stars' pictures, will soon be blossoming out with colored reproductions of famous paintings, if Prof. Lester Longman's plans go through. The professor is head of the fine arts department of McMaster University, and has hit on the idea of renting out the college-owned pictures at 10 cents for two weeks.

"The 10 cents fee is really a guarantee of interest," the professor told The Herald. "It will mean that the students won't just drag the pictures home, put them aside and pay no more attention to them. I feel that the time will be of sort of premium, and I think that a deeper appreciation of art will be fostered this way."

At present the pictures are on exhibition at the university. There are 75 now framed and ready to be rented. The collection contains pictures of the 17th and 18th century masters, as well as some modern cubist and impressionist. Among the older pictures are Gainsborough's "Portrait of Graham," Lawrence's "Master Lampton," and Gilbert Stuart's "Portrait of Washington."

There are no Canadian reproductions, because the work of Canadian artists are not reproduced in such proportions. There are English, French, Italian and one or two Spanish portraits.

The idea of renting pictures originated two years ago with a friend of Prof. Longman at Brown University in the United States.

Britain's Defence Plans

Country Obligated To Bring Forces Up For Safety

Britain proposes to spend one billion dollars at once in building up the navy and the air force until these are the strongest in the world. Britain is to take no chances. She is not going to trust plous hopes any longer. If trouble comes, she is going to be prepared for it. Might has again taken the place of right as a solution for international troubles, and in preparation for war can stop war. Britain is going to be ready to do the stopping.

This is a tragic situation to develop so soon after the great world war. Britain, however, is blameless for it. She disarmed, while others were arming. She cut down her defence forces to a dangerous low level, as an example to other nations, an example which they refused to follow. Under these circumstances, it is not to be wondered at that realism has taken the place of idealism in Britain's defence plans.—Oshawa Times.

Raising Gigantic Toads

To Be Used To Curb Increase Of White Grub

An "army" of gigantic toads is being mobilized for the Meringa sugar experiment station in North Queensland, Australia. In due course, they will be flung into action against a certain kind of crop-destroying white grub. Originally, 100 of these toads were imported from Hawaii. Now there are 2,000 of them and the number is increasing rapidly. It is said to be the first time that such creatures have bred in captivity.

Canada-India Trade

Bright prospects for increasing trade between Canada and India through the steamship services between the two countries were seen by Major J. G. Little Helps For This Week

Then I said, I have labored in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, Isaiah 59:4.

Because I have spent the strength Thou gavest me, In struggle which Thou never didst ordain, And have but dregs of life to offer Thee, O Lord I do repent

It is the best work that God wants, not the dregs of our exhaustion. If the people about you are carrying on their business or their benevolence at a pace which drains the life out of you, resolutely take a slower pace, be called a laggard, make less money, accomplish less work than they, but be what you were meant to be and can be. Every person has their natural limit of power as much as an engine, ten horse power, or twenty, or a hundred. You are only fit to do a certain kind of work and you need a certain kind and amount of fuel: In your occupations try to possess your soul in peace. Accustom yourself to do whatever you have to do with tranquility that you may have peace.

Unusual Source of Wealth

Yugoslavians Yonks Making Money Through Selling Frogs

A plague of frogs has brought wealth to the districts around Valjevo, Yugoslavia. All the summer the frogs made life almost unbearable. Their presence on the roads made motoring unsafe and their loud croaks made conversation out of doors almost impossible. Then two youths from the district went to Paris for a holiday. There they found frog legs a popular delicacy and hurried home to get into the business of shipping them to Paris. Exports of Valjevo frogs now go there regularly by air—and the peasants are finding their frogs have legs of gold.

Not Well Acquainted

The man with the suitcase chased the train to the end of the platform but failed to catch it. As he slowly walked back, mopping his brow, an interested onlooker remarked: "Oh, not much," was the reply. "You see, I never got to know it very well."

Local News

A vestry meeting of St. Alban's church will be held on Sunday evening at the close of the service.

The health classes opened by Miss Stevenson of Hillcrest last Friday evening have aroused interest, there being quite a number present in the Italian hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Krywolt and family and Mrs. D. Filaflo and son Donald were week-end visitors at Lethbridge the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hendrick.

A regular meeting of the school board was held on Tuesday evening. The closing date for Christmas holidays was not decided on, though Dec. 23 was proposed, and re-opening on Jan. 3.

Prize-winners at the whist drive and dance, held under the auspices of the Rebekah lodge, on Saturday evening were Mr. Ernest Hill, Mrs. J. Nash, Mrs. Ernest Hill and Mrs. Lawrence Caros. Prizes for the novelty dance were won by Miss Dora Burrows and Miss Fauville.

Two local curling rinks motored to Bellevue Tuesday evening in quest of the Burns' Cup. Moore's rink gained a decisive win over McLean but Key of Bellevue made Ledieu's rink bite the dust in convincing fashion. Coleman will again seek possession of the cup when they meet Bellevue on Sunday next.

Lust--Matvenke Fight

In the ninth Matvenke made Lust's knees buckle with a right hook to the jaw. Lust retaliated with a short uppercut. Both boxers scored to head and body.

The tenth round was a series of clinches, the referee being the busiest man of the three during the first two minutes. Lust forced the fight during the last minute and tried desperately to floor his opponent, Matvenke covering up to good advantage.

The judges' score cards showed them in disagreement, Referee Garrett deciding to call it a draw which met with loud approval.

The preliminary saw two youngsters, Rene Serini of Fernie and Dick Slugg of Coleman, mix it up, Serini winning decisively to get the nod from Referee Garrett.

Post No Notices

Again the post office has been defaced by people tacking up notices of various kinds. It is against government regulation to post notices either inside or outside of post-offices, except government notices.

This cheap-jack method of advertising is unsightly. It cheapens that which it is intended to advertise. In any event, notices must not be placed on government buildings. Telephone and light poles are also prohibited, and notices so posted may be removed under orders of the companies.

If people must advertise notices of meetings, they should either use the mails in a proper manner by sending out notices to members or advertise through the local newspaper. Many places in town are defaced by indiscriminate tacking up of various advertising signs.

Brewers Never Suggested Ban, Beer Advertising

Strong objection is taken by R. J. Chiswick, manager of Lethbridge Breweries, to a statement in an Edmonton dispatch Thursday which said:

"Alberta brewers are said to have supported the plan to ban advertising (of beer and liquors) in the belief that their products did not benefit by advertising particularly, and that the cost was great."

There never was any suggestion of the kind made by any of the Alberta brewers, declared Mr. Chiswick.—Lethbridge Herald.
